

eduClick

VCE

VOCATIONAL

MAJOR

SPECIALISTS

Can I still run Applied Projects?

- Yes 100%
- Although the curriculum in all VCEVM units has changed dramatically, there is still scope for applied projects
- New units have seen the removal of references to complex and group tasks however the advice eduClick is giving to schools is learning is about engaging students
- The new VCEVM needs to have a blended mix of theory, practical and online learning to ensure all learners in the classroom can be engaged
- There needs to be a structured formalised learning program for classroom tasks as well as a hands on component
- If your school currently has students run formals, organise fundraising or do other community based tasks, the advice is to keep doing this
- These tasks may not be linked to areas of the new curriculum however the skills and knowledge gained will underpin many skills a classroom can not give
- The VCEVM is designed to encompass a blended mix of all types of learning

For advice contact eduClick
info@educlick.com.au

Interested in finding our more

www.educlick.com.au

